

Privacy and Legal Statement

Privacy Policy

Behind bars (UK) Ltd takes the privacy of its customers and contacts very seriously. Please read the following policy to understand how we will treat your personal information when you use our site. If this policy changes then we will let you know via this page, and will give you the opportunity to opt out of any changes which affect you. If you are concerned about how your information is used, you should check back at our web site periodically.

In general use of this site behind bars (UK) Ltd does not retain your personal details, other than to store or capture any general data about you, such as your IP address and session details, like the number of pages you view and the type of browser you use. In performing these statistical analyses, we will disclose information to third parties only in aggregate form should they wish to advertise on our website.

Collection of your IP address and session details are generally for system administration and to help us evaluate use of the network of our site so that we can continue to develop and improve our online services.

For behind bars to contact you, you would either need to email us or complete our contact page with your name and address when you are accessing transactional services like booking events, training or asking to be contacted. Behind bars would retain this data in order that we may periodically send you email updates on our services or to occasionally use the information to contact you personally by telephone or post. Only those users who have opted in to receive these communications will be contacted. If you wish to opt out of receiving email or SMS messages from us, please use the unsubscribe option included in all our email correspondence or send an email to info@behindbarsgroup.com stating that you would prefer not to receive such mailings.

behind bars (UK) Ltd does not use cookies.

We do not sell, lend, hire or disclose your personal information to others.

A number of other people's web sites have links on our site. If you link to their sites, they may collect information. Such sites are not within our control and are not covered by this privacy statement.

If we believe that your use of the site is unlawful or damaging to others, we reserve the right to disclose the information we have obtained through the site about you to the extent that it is reasonably necessary in our opinion to prevent, remedy or take action in relation to such conduct.
